HOW TO PLAY

1

Read the start of the sentence.

Just a few words - a person, a thing, a place.

2

Finish it any way you like.

There is no right answer here.

3

Make it longer than you need to.

A sentence of ten words beats a sentence of four.

4

Read it back aloud.

If it sounds wrong, it probably is. Fix it and read it again.

A note for grown-ups

Don't correct the content, only the grammar. The point is fluency, and a child who is being judged on ideas stops having them.
